(54) Title: IMPLEMENTING A SERVICE, PARTICULARLY A FINANCIAL SERVICE, IN A NETWORK INVOLVING MOBILE TERMINALS

(57) Abstract: A method and arrangements are presented for providing a user with a service from a server (105, 1206) coupled to a communications network (103, 104, 1201, 1203). A definition (302) of automatically using the service is stored (427) into a mobile terminal (102, 1203) of the user. Said mobile terminal (102, 1203) is reprogrammed to associate a certain input command given through a user interface of said mobile terminal with starting the use of the service. As a response to receiving (702, 801, 901, 1001) said certain input command after the step of reprogramming said mobile terminal has been accomplished, the use of the service according to said definition commences. The use of the service comprises communicating information (112, 113, 114, 121, 122, 123) between said mobile terminal (102, 1203) and the server (105, 1206) through the communications network (103, 104, 1201, 1203).
